THE LATE MR GRAHAM CILMOUR'S WILL

The late Mr Graham Gilmour's wishes in regard to his funeral have been made known. They were detailed in a letter written nearly a year ago and left in a scaled envelops with a friend, with instructions that if he were killed by an aeroplane the letter was to be taken to his friend and solicitor, Mr Staples Eirth, who was to open it. On February 18 the friend called on Mr Staples Firth, and the letter was opened. It was found to be dated April 27, 1911, and was as follows :- " If I am smashed up by aeroplane, which is extramely probable, I don't wish my bod to be taken (to Mickleham Churchyard, where I wish to be buried near my father and mother) by the ordinary funeral hearso which is a beastly thing, or by train. It is, if possible, to go by motorat 8.30 a.m. Round trips take about 5 days. Passengers can return to Hongkong or vice versa by the Company's direct steamers. LINTAN and SANUL These vessels have superior Cabin accommodation and are lighted throughout by electricity. Electric lorry, and then if convenient by a fourwhosled farm cart. No mourning of any kind. Coloured flowers, if any. No moaning. I wish everyone to be merry and bright. If it is wished to put up a tombstone let it be a quarter-scale model of the plane I was killed with, in stone, bronze, or iron, or model of a big bat or other plane it does not matter which. The remains of the plane I wish given to Clifton College. Perhaps it will be possible to CHEN KWONG & CO., LD. would like it. No bell tolling at the church beautly idea ! Dead March if they like some of them are fine. The funeral took place at Mickleham on Hebruary 21, and the dead airman's last wishes were faithfully carried out . Financier's Rise and Fall. The jury at the Old Bailey found Ernest Terah Hooley, who is now fifty-two years of age, guilty on the indictment which charged him with obtaining aix cheques for the payment of £2,000 from George Leech Tweedale-s young mechanical engineer of Rochdale, who had inherited a fortune £45,000—by means of false pretences and f with intent to defrand. The false protence was in "stating that a particular estate which he was selling was not encumborod. Mr Justice Phillimore ordered months in the second division Mr Hooley turned sharply round and, murmuring, "A fine finish," left the dock. He was removed in a horsed-cab to Wormwood Scrubs Prison.

THE PALLET PINANCIES.

Hooley's career has been unique in th annals of finance. He is a man who floated 26 companies with a capital of over 184 millions sterling between them, made a gross profit for himself of over 5 millions sterling in the process and within a year or wo of the achievement was bankrupt.

ing eight miles to and from school every day, and he left school when he w thirteen. Between then and the time became the financial rage of London 1896 he had hereditary hankering after the Nottingham lace trade; preference; on th whole for farming, but finally became Nottingham stockbroker, in which profession he was acceedingly successful with s few big deals. That laid the foundations of his fortune, or rather his misfortune, and he became a financier.

Throughout financial London his name began to be mysteriously whispered in the middle nincties; and many a deal was linked with the name of Hooley, until people began to ask "Who is this Hooley?" They soon knew. In quick succession came the daring flotation of several huge companies like Dunlop, Humber, Bovill, Schweppes, and Trafford Park Estates, and Hooley was the company promoter of the age.

THE MAN HIMEELY He never had an office in the City. He held his court in a prince of stills of rooms on the first floor at the front of the Midland Grand Hotel for which the paid to journey to transact their business at St

. There they found him, a man of about forty-this was in the hardey of his career fitteen years ago with a tall, well-knit frame, a strong, swarthy face, with a glint of something in it that was repellent, a bearing that was marvellously alert, speech which, in spite of its broad provincial scount, was clear and to the point. He used to say that he could drink, work, and smoke at the same time. He began work with three secretaries at eight o'clock in the morning, and was generally in bed by ten at night. His week-ends he would spend invariably at one of his country seats engaged in the farming which he obviously loved. He always seemed intensely devoted Mr Hooley to be imprisoned for twelve to home life add used to boast that he was the biggest breeder of shoop in the country.

He presented the famous service of gold plate to St. Paul's Cathedral, worth some £2,000 or £3,000. He set aside £400,000 for the benefit of widows and orphans of the Derbyshire district in which he lived, to be dispersed in a well formulated scheme. He offered £10,000 to the Nottingham Hospital if the working men would first subscribe 200,000 shillings. BEASON OF THE CRASH

Soon the crash came. Its reason can best be given in the official words of the Inspector-General, ig Bankruptoy He He began life's responsibilities by walk- described the failure in 1898 as the most noteworthy in recent history, The liabilities were whittled down from about £1,000,000 to £491,000 The apparent profit made by the promoter in three years; 25,028,900, was changed by his ! reckless and extravagent methods of promotion ! into a net loss of £89,300. There were large gifts and fees to obtain the mames of titled and other persons as directors. and the "selling of shares of profits to strange career there followed dark days Notice that all Claims against the above and apparently dark doings. The name named Store up to and including the 15th of Hooley has been constantly cropping up March will be paid by him, after that date in the law courts ever since.

ACTORS SUPERSTITIONS,

Theatrical people generally, and Parisian actors and actresses in particular, all have a superstition of some kind. M. Hertz, the Paris correspondent of the Telepriph says, never has a bill printed for the Porte and Eighteen Bathrooms. Plans to be Saint-Martin Theatre without inserting the name of M. Total. We see it in the play Blambe, where M. Totah is supposed to play the part of a domestic servant. There is no such servant in the play, nor was there ever a Mr. Totah, but the manager, H. Hertz, will not post up a play without M. Totahr - It would being him bad luck. M. Antoine has another superstition. He carries with him a little leather purse, which contains nothing but the decree appointing him director of the Odeon. If he did not carry that decree 150,000 with him every day, wee would surely 250,000 | befall him. There have been innumerable ,550,000 jokes about M. Samuel, the director of the 650,000 Varietes. He is always seen in a straw 500,000 hat. He goes, summer and winter, to 75.000 rehearsals and premieres in a straw hat 175,000 was given for the first time he wore a 800,000 straw hat. He thought the play would 375,000 last many weeks. He said he would not ,500,000 change his hat till it ran three hundred 250,000 straw hat the whole year. The result is that he is wearing a straw hat still

NEW CHINESE BANK IN HONGEONG

Bank of Canton, Ltd., begins Business.

On Sanday the Bank of Canton, Ltd., formally opened its doors. It is situated at No. 8 Dos Voux Road Central, and is thus in the banking centre of the Colony. This new bank is to be conducted on Western lines, and Mr Look Pong-shan is the Chairman of the Board of Directors and chief manager of the Bank, the other Directors being :- Messrs Lam Wo, Li Yuk-tong, Ma Ying-piu, Tang Choung-cha, Tong Yat-chun, Mak Li-tang, Yu Pao-san, Li Pao-lung, Lau Tung-Sam, Lau Ki-wa, Tong Li-cheun, and Li Pang-hau. The Secretary is Mr Ho Li-shek. Mr Wong Pik-tsun is Assistant Secretary and Mr Tang Chung-chak cashier.

The premises were gaily decorated for the opening ceremony, which was largely attended by Chinese busoness-men and several foreign residents. Many congratulatory addresses were read from associations and private individuals, and soveral speeches followed from many of the ! leading spirits in the new commercial with promptitude and despatch. venture and their friends, including Mr. Luk Pong-shau, and Mr Li Yuk-tong, Treasurer of Kwantung.

"The only address in English was delivered by Mr Li Wai-ching, chief accountant, who the work shop. A cut or bruise which is spoke as follows: On being called upon often the cause of much annoyance and loss to speak on this anspicious occasion. I feel that it is not only a duty which I own to this institution but it is both a privilege and an honour. You will all, I am sure, poisoning resulting from an injury when be interested in a brief history of the forma- this limiment is applied before the parts tion of this Bank and an outline of the objects which it has in view. Every one: is aware of the fact that there is a large number of wealthy Chinese merchants and residents in the United States of America who conduct a very extensive trade will their homeland and the Orient. The transactions are of very large amounts and naturally elaborate banking facilities are necessary to finance them. For many years, the Canton Bank in San Francisco founded by the Chinese merchants there. has handled these financial transactions, but having no branch on this side have had to pass the business through ordinary correspondent banks or agents. Not long ago it was decided that the extent of the business of the Chipese merchants in America with the East was large enough to warrant the opening of a bank of their own on this side, and this decision was given effect to, in the establishing of this institution, the Bank of Canton, Ltd., in Hongkong. I may state that this bank is not a branch of nor in any way attached to the Canton Bank of San Francisco, Buth metitutions are separate although they are closely related to each other in view of the fact that most shareholders of the latter bank are also shareholders of this Institution. Furthermore, one sets for the other as sole agent and both work or the same system and principle. We are much indebted to the Canon Bank of San Francisco for the part which they have taken in bringing this institution in to shape. At the commencement, their manager, Mr Alien, very kindly came ever here to sasial us in the organization wor and stayed with us several months. In him we had the good fortune of having a man with wide experience and exceptional ability to guide this new institution in its first stops. I may further mention that Me Look Tin-eli, the Prosident of the Canton months, he will give us the benefit of his experience and advice. The Bank of and maturally they will be encouraged to extend their operations, the consequence of which will be that commercial sofivity will be increased and the country in general will prosper thereby. Before I sit down, there is one point on which I wish to lay special emphasis, and that it it must not be thought fur one moment that a corporation like this will injure the interests and business of European banks which are already established in the East. On the contrary, it is my firm conviction that Chinese banks run on Western methods will be able to render assistance o European bankers. /s. I have already said. I am fully convinced that the European banks and those like ourselves will mutually help and bonefit each other and am sure they cannot but work together n harmony and good will. I would take this opportunity of sesuring the European bankers that the staff of the Bank of Canton, Ltd., will siways do its utmost to maintain a most pleasant relationship. with all the other banks in the Colony. In conclusion, on behalf of the staff of this Bank, I extend a hearty welcome to all who are present to-day and express the assurance that one and all who visit this Bank will meet with courtesy and respect and that their business will be attended to

HOPES AND FEARS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail) LONDON, March 23.

A statement by Mr Ramsay Macdonald, Labour M.P., encourages the belief that agreement may result on Monday with. out legislation, but it is feared that the South Wales owners are still obdurate, and even if the leaders accept the proposed District Boards the question of the prolongation of the strike will depend on the men, whose disappointment at not obtaining the promised rates, together with possible Government measures to protect the men envious to resume, may still lead to grave disorders.

JOINT RAILWAY ACTION.

A general agreement has been arrived at between the milways to sacrifice passenger traffic to food trains throughout the country.

FOOD PRICES UNAFFECTED.

It is astonishing that hitherto, despite the rise in the price of coal, the prices of necessaries have nowhere increased. Nevertheless in the mining and industrial districts the extraordinary conditions prevailing have caused suffering and poverty.

UNION FUNDS EXHAUSTED.

The miners' funds are mostly exhausted or will be next week, and this, despits reduced payments. For example, out of nine large districts in England There was a small attendance and Wales only two have any funds left. The position of other Trades Unions in many instances is worse their funds having been for some time exhausted.

ALLEVIATING MISERY.

Consequently, throughout the country Education Boards, land-owners (prominent among whom are the Earl Portland and Lord Crews) and clergy are distributing food and fire-
